

Plan:

Start designing a HTML page for MedCal. We want to have a search bar in which the user can enter a particular location they are in in Ireland, and then our database gives out all the available GP's in that area.

Week 1:

Decide on which framework to use to develop our web application.

We are going to decide on some sort of Database to store all the info on GP's etc.

First basic JavaScript website running.